Stellar Phoenix Password Recovery 2.0

Installation Guide

Overview

Passwords are set to prevent unauthorized access to system or important data. There are various types of passwords used for security and integrity of data. If you ever forget your password, do not loose your sleep over it. 'Stellar Phoenix Password Recovery' is here for your rescue!

'Stellar Phoenix Password Recovery' is a password and software's key recovery tool. For 'Web browsers', 'Network application' and 'FTP client applications', it recovers only user name / passwords that have been saved to the local machine but forgotten. It is not a password cracker or generator.

It can reset password used to login to accounts in 'Windows Operating System' (OS) to blank. It recovers user name, domain name and password for 'Network' application. It recovers user name and passwords used to login to web sites or typed in forms provided in various web sites if user name and password have been 'remembered' by web browsers. To enable browser to remember typed user name / passwords, you need to turn on this feature in web browsers.

'Stellar Phoenix Password Recovery' can recover license key or serial number of software installed on the computer. However, the software, of which you need the license key, should be activated beforehand as it can find keys of registered software only.
